Volume 13, Issue #12

The Tornado Times is put out at the beginning of each school week.

The contents of the Tornado Times are intended to inform Malden High School students and staff as well as the greater Malden High School community. If you would like to add something please submit the contents to Principal Dana F. Brown, dbrown@maldenps.org. Stories, pictures, reminders, club, activity, and class notes are all welcome.

Malden High School Vision Statement

The Malden High School community believes in the potential of all students to learn, to grow, and to become active, conscientious participants in the 21st century global society. We believe that students learn most effectively in a safe, respectful environment that encourages diverse viewpoints, promotes critical thinking and perseverance, and establishes rigorous standards for all. We honor the diverse nature of our community, promote social awareness and community involvement, and strive to meet the needs of all students through innovative methods and continual professional development. We are committed to ensuring that Malden High School graduates are thoughtful, independent, purpose-driven, lifelong learners. We seek to equip all students with the skills and habits necessary to successfully navigate and contribute to our ever-changing world.

Good morning,

We come in every day and work hard on behalf of young people from all over. Despite the crazy world around us we stay committed to our students and to their education. As we all know it is often messy.

Thank you for everything you do to teach, nurture, support, and mentor our students. Sometimes in our daily work we see the immediate positive impact of what we do but often we never get to witness the good things that happen in student's lives after they leave us. You have to know that what we do matters.

I encourage all of us to stay focused on students and what they need. Let's also support each other as we do this. Thank you.

“Coach” Jon Copithorne took a Malden High School team to the WGBH High School Quiz Show. It took place at the WGBH building in Boston where Malden was one of 140 schools to compete in the largest High School Quiz Show preliminary lineup in the show's history.

Malden was represented by Kelvin Cheng Bo, Kaitlyn Gibson, Jasper Haag, Merjem Rizvancevic, Andrew Cogliano, and Samantha Forestier.

While the team won't be sure of whether or not they qualified for the TV competition until next Monday, according to Mr. Copithorne the team represented the school well and impressed the moderators with their answers. Thank you Coach and team!

- ❖ On Friday of this week we will celebrate and recognize three different groups of students. At a 7:15 am breakfast on Friday our Guidance Counselors will recognize the 125 seniors being awarded the John and Abigail Adams Scholarship. The Adams Scholarship is good for the cost of tuition at any Massachusetts State College or University.

Come see Malden High School play production in their annual fall musical, Willy Russell's thrilling drama, Blood Brothers, November 19th, 20th, and 21st at 7:30 p.m. in the Malden High School Jenkins Auditorium. Blood Brothers is one of the most prized musicals in London West End theater history.

Blood Brothers tells the tale of two fraternal twins separated at birth and follows them through their journeys growing up in two completely different environments, as they experience love and face tragedy. The musical toggles between a sweet coming of age tale and a bleak look at the class system in mid-century Great Britain. The commentary within the play about income inequality, the cycles of poverty and the nature of gun violence is particularly relevant.

Tickets are $5 each for students and seniors, and $8 for general admission. You can buy your tickets at the door one hour prior to the show time, or online at:

<http://www.brownpapertickets.com/event/2327424>

Warning: Play contains some adult language and themes as well as onstage violence.
The show is intended for viewers middle-school aged and above.

Spirit Week at Malden High School

Spirit Week really starts this year on Thursday, November 19th with our annual Fall Play Production Show; this year the students will do the musical Blood Brothers. The musical is performed again on Friday and Saturday nights. Shows are at 7:30 pm in the Jenkins Auditorium. Under the direction of Sean Walsh the Play Production class has worked tirelessly to be ready for their big nights. Todd Cole, Miranda Libkin, and Allen Phelps also play major supporting roles in getting the students ready.

On Monday, November 23rd the school participates in Pajama Day. Students and staff wear appropriate sleeping attire if they wish. Points are awarded to the graduation class with the most participation. Our National Honor Society members serve as point counters for the week. They also help run the Pep Rally events held in the gym.

On Tuesday, November 24th the school will host Wacky Tacky Day. Per usual, students and staff are allowed to wear wacky tacky outfits (think mismatch, staff look-alikes, late for Halloween et al). Tremendous pressure on me this year; past “dress-ups” have included Eminem, Nicki Minaj, Lady Gaga, Psy (Gangnam Style), Snapchat, Snooky and more. Oh boy...

On Wednesday, November 25th the school hosts the annual Pep Rally in the gym. It is also Blue and Gold Day and all students and staff are encouraged to wear their Malden High School colors. The day starts with face painting in Cafeteria Boyle by our art staff and students. Breakfast is served on this day but not lunch.

The Pep Rally features our football and cheerleading squads, our dance teams, the award winning band and chorus, and the team competitions culminating with the tug-o-war between classes. Many recent graduates usually find their way back to the Pep Rally. The graduation class with the most points (from the dress up days, competitions, hallway decorating) is declared the overall winner. Dismissal is from the gym before 11 am. Your families are welcome to attend.

About an hour after Pep Rally the annual tag/flag football game between the junior and senior girls takes place at Macdonald Stadium. The last couple of contests have been played in bone crunching weather and torrential rains; great fun!

While all of this is happening during Spirit Week the 4 classes are engaged in a "Spirit" banner decorating contest. The banners get hung near or in the gym prior to the Pep Rally. Crucial points go to the best banner.

On Thanksgiving Day Malden High School and Medford High School compete in the 3rd oldest high school Thanksgiving Day football game in the United States. This year the game returns to Medford at the traditional start time of 10 am. A win gives Malden High School sole possession and undisputed claim to the Greater Boston League title.

Following the football game Malden High School will serve as the site of the annual Bread of Life "Don't be Alone" Thanksgiving Dinner for families and individuals in need. The dinner is held from 12 noon until 2 pm. In addition to the hundreds of folks in attendance at the meal, hundreds of meals are also delivered to folks who can't get out to the dinner. Many of our students and staff contribute by donating to Bread of Life financially, with their time, or by baking something for the day.

Finally, on Saturday, November 28th the City hosts the annual Parade of Holiday Traditions. Clubs, groups, teams are encouraged to participate. The parade kicks off at 2 pm at the Salemwood School and ends at City Hall. Each school is asked to design a holiday wreath for City Hall. Our art department has taken on the challenge!

I have tried to capture the essence of all of the upcoming events but I am sure I missed something. Please don't hesitate to ask me or a veteran administrator/teacher if you have any questions or if you would like to be involved in any way.

Thanks.

Dana Brown, Principal
