

Tornado Times
Monday, May 2, 2016
Volume 13, Issue #33

Go Malden!

The Tornado Times is put out at the beginning of each school week.

The contents of the Tornado Times are intended to inform Malden High School students and staff as well as the greater Malden High School community. If you would like to add something please submit the contents to Principal Dana F. Brown, dbrown@maldenps.org. Stories, pictures, reminders, club, activity, and class notes are all welcome.

Malden High School Vision Statement

The Malden High School community believes in the potential of all students to learn, to grow, and to become active, conscientious participants in the 21st century global society. We believe that students pplearn most effectively in a safe, respectful environment that encourages diverse viewpoints, promotes critical thinking and perseverance, and establishes rigorous standards for all. We honor the diverse nature of our community, promote social awareness and community involvement, and strive to meet the needs of all students through innovative methods and continual professional development. We are committed to ensuring that Malden High School graduates are thoughtful, independent, purpose-driven, lifelong learners. We seek to equip all students with the skills and habits necessary to successfully navigate and contribute to our ever-changing world.

Good morning,

I hope everyone had a great weekend. At Friday night's MHS Alumni Association Hall of Fame Dinner inductee after inductee praised our students and staff for the experience at MHS on Friday and they all reminded us of the support they got while at MHS and the sense of community that existed and still exists. Thank you for continuing the tradition of support for our students.

On Saturday I had the chance to see Botball at UMass Lowell. Our robotics team always impresses me with their dedication and collaboration. That comes from their advisors, Brian Morrison and Chris Bazzinotti!

As we head to two school finishes, one for the seniors and one for the underclassmen, I am reminded of a coach who after a tough loss, said; "we just ran out of time." We are almost to that point. With very few class days to go several of our seniors and underclassmen have to produce now!

Prom tickets go on sale this week.

This week, Monday, May 2 through Friday, May 6, three students from the National Honor Society will be holding a week long food drive. All donations made will go to the Bread of Life in Malden since their number of donations have been significantly down in recent months. Any donation made is greatly appreciated. The drop off location for donations will be in the Main Office all week. Feel free to contact Haley Mallett, hmallett16@maldenps.org, Grace Melo, gmelo17@maldenps.org, or Gabe Oliveira, goliveir17@maldenps.org, with any questions.

Advanced Placement exams begin Monday, May 2nd.

Special Olympics will occur on Thursday unless there is too much rain. The rain date is Friday of this week.

Congratulations to MHS student Phuong Nguyen. Her essay was the winning entry in the 10th Annual Israel Arbeiter Holocaust Essay Contest. Phuong was honored at a ceremony yesterday at Faneuil Hall. The ceremony was titled; "From Holocaust to New Life: How will we remember?" The ceremony was sponsored by several groups including the Jewish Community Relations Council, Facing History and Ourselves, and the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum, among others. Phuong's history teacher Ellsworth Fersch was on hand for the ceremony as well. Congratulations Phuong and a big thanks to Ellsworth for involving his students in this contest. Phuong receives a trip to the US Holocaust Memorial Museum and an educational scholarship.

That's Phuong receiving her award with a quote from her essay on the screens.

Photo credit, Ellsworth Fersch

Congratulations to the Class of 2018 on their successful car wash this past Saturday. $900 +!

Thank you Kelli Collumb and others for organizing the interviews for the Summer Jobs Program. Lots of MHS students were on hand Saturday for an interview.

From Kuwait-That's Malden High School grad Teddy Louis Jacques proudly holding the sleeve of the Malden Overcoming Addiction shirt. His fellow soldiers are all sporting the "Stop the Stigma" ribbon! All roads...

The next two weeks:

Monday, May 02, 2016	PROGRESS REPORT FOLDERS OPEN for GRADE 12, AP EXAMS BEGIN, Prom tickets go on sale after school.	4,5,6,7,1
Tuesday, May 03, 2016		3,4,5,6,7,1
Wednesday, May 04, 2016		2,3,4,5,6,7
Thursday, May 05, 2016	Special Olympics, Small Ensembles Concert, 7 pm in Jenkins	1,2,3,4,5,6
Friday, May 06, 2016	Special Olympics Rain Date, PROGRESS REPORT FOLDERS CLOSE for GRADE 12	7,1,2,3,4,5
Monday, May 09, 2016	Early-release	6,7,1,2,3
Tuesday, May 10, 2016	National Honor Society Ceremony	5,6,7,1,2,3
Wednesday, May 11, 2016	SEPAC, Families for Depression Awareness event, 6:30 pm	4,5,6,7,1,2
Thursday, May 12, 2016	Spring Choral Concert, 7pm, Jenkins	3,4,5,6,7,1
Friday, May 13, 2016	AP EXAMS END, Multicultural Night	2,3,4,5,6,7

Continuing our focus on social and emotional health:

May 11, 2016 @ Malden High School, 6:30-8:00 p.m.

"Families for Depression Awareness" Parents and teens experiencing depression with family members will share their life experiences with all. This is a good time to hear firsthand what it is like to be the parent of a teen who is depressed and to hear directly from teens who have experienced depression and the challenges that they face. This program is free.

Sponsored by Malden SEPAC-Special Education Parent Advisory Council

Hello Everyone,

Just wanted to invite you all to the spring concert by the Small Ensembles Class. It will be on Thursday, May 5th and 7:00 pm in the Jenkins Auditorium. So many of you came to support the students at the December concert that we maxed out the gallery!

Hope to see you all there! The list of students performing is below. See if you can spot any of your students. They would love to see you there. Thanks!

1. ANDRE, WON
2. CARRIJO, NYCKOLLAS
3. CASTRO, BARBARA INTAITY
4. DEUS, CORALIE
5. DOLCIUS, MURPHY Stanley
6. JEAN LOUIS, TRECY
7. JEUDI, MARIE SANETTE
8. JOSEPH, WALKY
9. KAEWNOY, NUTTHITI
10. LETANG, GUETCHINA
11. LETANG, JEAN GERALD
12. ESHETU, SAMRAWIT
13. HERNANDEZ MURCIA, HECTOR
14. HUANG, YIXI
15. VIDAL, GIOVANA LISA
16. HUANG, YIQI
17. MCINNIS, CHRISTINE
18. MELANSON, MEGAN
19. MORROW, AUSTIN
20. OCCEAN, MEDJINA
21. PYRAM, SABRINA
22. SATHIYENDRA, ARTHIYA

Advanced Placement Week 1

Test Date	Morning (8 AM)	Afternoon (12 PM)
Monday	AP Chemistry	AP Psychology
May 2	AP Environmental Science
Tuesday	AP Computer Science A	AP Art History

May 3	AP Spanish Language and Culture	AP Physics 1: Algebra-based
Wednesday	AP English Literature and	AP Japanese Language and Culture
May 4	Composition	AP Physics 2: Algebra-Based
Thursday	AP Calculus AB	AP Chinese Language and Culture
May 5	AP Calculus BC	AP Seminar
Friday	AP German Language and Culture	AP European History
May 6	AP United States History

Advanced Placement Week 2

Test Date	Morning (8 AM)	Afternoon (12 PM)
Monday	AP Biology	AP Physics C: Mechanics
May 9	AP Music Theory	IMPORTANT ALERT AFTERNOON (2 p.m.) Special Exam time. AP Physics C: Electricity and Magnetism is the only exam given at 2 p.m.

Tuesday AP United States Government and AP French Language and Culture
May 10 Politics AP Spanish Literature and Culture

Wednesday AP English Language and AP Italian Language and Culture
May 11 Composition AP Macroeconomics

Thursday AP Comparative Government and AP Statistics
May 12 Politics
AP World History

Friday AP Human Geography AP Latin
May 13 AP Microeconomics

Play Production Notes:

Hello all,

Play Production is readying our performance of Much Ado About Nothing - May 26 and 27 in the MHS courtyard. We have a summer camp theme and are in need of some items.

We are also in need of some faculty volunteers to help with concessions, tickets, etc. the evenings of the show - if you are able. Please respond if you can help.

PROPS

Duffel bags or camper's backpacks

Sleeping bags

Camping lanterns

Old Speakers (need not work - 70s/80s era)

Old turntable (need not work)
Kids swimmies, snorkels, or tubes
Christmas lights (we have some, but need a good deal)
Other string or outdoor lights
Punch Bowl with ladle
Flashlights

COSTUMES

Camping / Fisherman's hats
Fanny packs
Whistles
vintage baseball shirts/graphic T-shirts (70/80s)
70/80s era clothes and jeans sun dresses
beaded bracelets or other camp jewelry (hemp necklaces, etc.)
Camp/Scout badges

Thank you again!
Sean Walsh, Allen Phelps

From Sean Walsh and Natalia Brennan

We are taking applications and/or gauging interest for students for our Help Desk a.k.a. The Chrome Crew next year. Please share this Google Form with your classes. Post on the Classroom, email it out, etc. Paper forms will be available in the library. We are hoping to identify 20-30 students for next year.

Please contact us with any questions.

If you have trouble viewing or submitting this form, you can fill it out in Google Forms.

Google Help Desk

This is a half-year, half-credit course designed for students who wish to learn about Chromebook repair, Google Applications for Education, and device management. Students will be assigned to the library and work with the Help Desk coordinator on projects determined by the student and coordinator. Students are expected to attend daily. Students may repeat the class for credit.

 Required

Name *

Homerook *

Grade Level *

- Freshmen
- Sophomore
- Junior
- Senior

Why do you want to be a part of the help desk? *

Please describe a time that you independently solved a problem. *

List any potentially relevant skills. *

Please provide the name of a teacher/staff member who can testify to your work ethic/academics/attendance, etc.

Join us for the 5th annual Boston EdTalks, A Celebration of Teacher-Led Innovation
May 5, 2016

Presentations from 5:30-7:30pm.

Celebratory cocktail hour with presenters and guests from 7:30-8:30pm.

The Boston EdTalks will take place at The Boston Foundation, 75 Arlington St, 10th floor, Boston, MA 02116.

<http://www.bostonedtalks.org/rsvp/>

Seven inducted into MHSAA Hall of Fame

By David D. Haskell

When seven new members were inducted April 29 into the Malden High School Alumni Association's Hall of Fame for 2016, it became obvious they had a shared characteristic, that hard work and determination is the path to success.

These seven make up the third group of MHS graduates to be nominated and selected for the Hall of Fame. Their stories tell of hardships overcome and challenges met as they strove through life to achieve dreams rooted and nourished in Malden High.

"Never give up hope," said honoree Diane Katz Portnoy, Class Of '63, who as a 3-year-old was smuggled out of a war torn Poland with her parents. While they survived and settled in Malden, all other members of their family died in the Holocaust.

Portnoy's life experience led her in time to establish the Immigrant Learning Center in Malden, teaching English to thousands of immigrants.

Mindful of anti-immigrant sentiments being expressed in some places during this presidential election year, Portnoy emphasized the "positive impact" these immigrants have on the community and country.

The honorees spoke to graduating seniors in Jenkins Auditorium on Friday afternoon before the induction ceremonies and banquet in the evening at Anthony's function facility.

"Find your passion," Gen. Theresa Ciccolo Prince, Class of '78, advised the students. "Even if you don't know it, it will come to you."

Terri, who grew up in the Newland Street Projects and learned the value of hard work, channeled her passions into nursing and achieved, rare for a female, the rank of general as one of the Air Force's leading nurses.

"I never forget my roots," she said.

Principal Dana Brown, serving as master of ceremonies for the third and perhaps final time, praised the seniors for being so attentive as the inductees told of their lives and related how they appreciated their own days at MHS as they headed out to uncertain futures.

Brown, facing his own unknown but assuredly exciting future, looked out upon the seniors and suggested that perhaps in 30 years or so some of them might be selected for the Hall of Fame.

"It was very inspiring," said senior Marie Sylvain.

At the banquet, where the honorees received engraved plaques, Virginia "Ginny" Shabas Yardumian, Class of '46, emphasized the importance of working together, something she practiced serving three terms on the Malden School Committee.

In politics and dealing with complex education issues, she said, you have to learn "patience and determination."

Musician Marc Phaneuf, Class of '82, who has played with most of the top acts in show business and orchestras such as the Boston Symphony, said it is important to "respect everyone" and to "get up and dust yourself off" when something goes wrong.

He said his music, nurtured at Malden High, "has brought me to some great places" with many great performers.

John McCarthy, Class of '64, an international banker, came all the way from his home in Istanbul, Turkey, for the induction, which he said was a "wonderful experience." McCarthy, who studied German through high school and college, said it was important to learn other languages because through them you learn "other people's souls" and "you learn to understand and respect" them.

McCarthy was particularly impressed with MHS students he met, calling them "absolutely brilliant."

One of the inductees was posthumous, Gov. John A. Volpe, Class of '26B, who served three terms and later was appointed as ambassador to Italy. Accepting for Volpe was his niece, Janet Volpe Livesey. She said her uncle, the son of immigrants, not only lived the American dream through hard work and determination, but "met and exceeded his dreams."

Due to a family tragedy, honoree John A. Boris, Class of '56 and '64, was unable to attend. Malden School Committee member John Froio, Class of '58, accepted for him.

Boris, Froio said, was a high school dropout who served in the Army before returning eight years later to get his degree and went on to use his eventual success in business and civic affairs for humanitarian purposes.

The MHSAA established the Hall of Fame Three years ago in order to give recognition to graduates for exceptional achievements in their chosen careers and/or for their outstanding contributions to the Malden community and beyond.

More information on the inductees can be found on www.maldenhigalumni.com.

Questions may be directed to Diane Lind, '54, at dlind420@verizon.net or Joanne Iovino, '64, at jli4671@yahoo.com.

-30-

Contact:

David D. Haskell, '54

781-324-2725

Dhaskell2@verizon.net.