NATIONAL RECOGNITION for MALDEN HIGH SCHOOL! Green Difference Award is presented in a ceremony held at the State House

Mr. Janowicz proudly displays the Green Difference Award in main office.

Malden High School and its talented and industrious students are often acknowledged for achievements that go above and beyond the norm. Staff members are also honored on a frequent basis for their contributions to our school community. Recently, our school was thrust on the national stage as a group of staff and students from Malden High School, led by Mr. Janowicz and Ms. Collomb received one of only 10 national

Awards from Project Green Schools for their “Learn and Earn” program. The award came under the “Outstanding Commitment to Greenovation” (GREEN + STEM + Innovation) Category. group from MHS attended the award ceremony at the State House in Boston. Photo Inside

MALDEN HIGH SCHOOL VISION STATEMENT

The Malden High School community believes in the potential of all students to learn, to grow and to become active, conscientious participants in the 21st century global society. We believe that students learn most effectively in a safe, respectful environment that encourages diverse viewpoints, promotes critical thinking and perseverance and establishes vigorous standards for all. We honor the diverse nature of our Malden community, promote social awareness and community involvement and strive to meet the needs of all students through innovative methods and continued professional development. We are committed to ensuring that Malden High School graduates are thoughtful, independent, purpose-driven, lifelong learners. We seek to equip all students with the skills and habits necessary to successfully navigate and contribute to our ever-changing world.

HOLOCAUST SURVIVOR SPEAKS AT MALDEN HIGH SCHOOL: Holocaust survivor George Elbaum came to Malden High School and spoke to over 200 students in the Jenkins Auditorium about his early life in occupied Poland during World War II. Mr. Elbaum's story resonated with our students as his formative years were spent under the harsh and brutal conditions imposed on the Jewish people of Poland the Warsaw region during World War II. Elbaum described the deplorable living conditions in the Warsaw Ghetto and then episodes in his life when he escaped the ghetto and was harbored by various non-Jewish families until he was reunited with his mother at the end of the war and then emigrated to the U.S. where he attended high school in Alabama and Idaho.

Holocaust survivor George Elbaum, at left, spoke to students in the Jenkins on April 12 about his life. He was introduced by our principal Mr. Mastrangelo, at right.

Back from April Vacation break all recharged and ready for achievement

To All Malden High School Staff, Students and Administrators:

Hello everyone,

Welcome back from the April Vacation Break which hopefully was an enjoyable and restful week for all. We trust that everyone has returned recharged and ready for achievement

As you know, the final quarter of our school year is one full of energy, excitement and accomplishment. For our Class of 2018 seniors, their years at Malden High School culminate in the capstone of their time here, Graduation Day. Prom Season looms as well for our seniors. The Senior Internship Program is now under way once again for dozens of our students. There is much work remaining and a lot of learning still ahead for all of our students and staff. Let us use the momentum we have generated to finish strong this school year.

Mr. Mastrangelo - Principal

It's that time of year... 'MR. MHS'
Contest set for Wed., April 25, 7:00
One of the most popular events on the Malden High calendar returns to scene

FORTNITE CAN WAIT A DAY...
Come to Mr. MHS
4/25 @ 7 PM
$7.00

Walter... his whole body is a weapon!
He plans to use it to win the title!
Can he fend off the competition on 4/25 and become MR. MHS '18? Be there!

Michael will take a 'Five for Fighting' penalty if it gives him the title!
The 'gloves drop' on 4/25, see if he has the 'right hook' to win this fight!

Fern got that ball spinning so fast you can't see it! But you can see him win...
On 4/25, he's gonna make the judges' heads spin too! That might be a "W"!

Dete considers this a talent... we're not so sure it qualifies, but who are we?
On 4/25, if he's able to jam 2-knuckles up there, the judges might make him king!

Mike likes showing off new skills... Here's his latest! He's so proud!
If he ceases to FYE on 4/25, the judges might give him the crown. You know you need to see this!

Rearranging his sock draw... Yeah, Phil cancelled that to be in the show...
Come by on 4/25, so he'll 'get a snit' as to if he made the correct choice!

Sticking scissors in light sockets? Pat has some pretty strange talents!
Just come through on 4/25 to Mr. MHS and watch him SHACTIFY the judges!

Omar Hernandez, Malden Public Schools Food Service Director, issued the following on Monday, following reports of contaminated lettuce in various parts of the United States:

“I would like to reassure everyone that our lettuce is safe to eat. We have contacted our vendors and the lettuce we have been receiving is not part of the contaminated product.”

Bazile will be an Owl; Accepts Scholarship to play football in fall at Southern Connecticut

mother, signed a National Letter of Intent to accept a football scholarship from the Southern Connecticut State University Owls. Bazile was a two-year, two-way starter for the Golden Tornados this past season and in 2016. He arrived in Malden from Miami, Fla. to start the 2016-2017 school year and was an immediate impact player. Bazile also considered UMass-Amherst, Central Connecticut, Husson and Merrimack among his college choices. Former Malden High Head Football Coach Bill Manchester was instrumental in assisting Bazile with his eventual college selection and scholarship acceptance, according to Bazile, who served as a team captain this past season.

Malden HS Counselor Ms. Northrup completes MIAA training

FRANKLIN - The Massachusetts Interscholastic Athletic Association is pleased to announce that 20 education professionals from across the region recently graduated from the 31st Annual MIAA Leadership Training Institute. Among those receiving certification was Malden HS Guidance Counselor and coach Heather Northrop.

“It was a tremendous experience that I would recommend for anyone working in education and athletics,” Ms. Northrop said. “So much great information is available and shared

This five-day residential program was held recently and was facilitated and directed by the MIAA staff and featured national trainers Kevin Ringhofer, Marty Harding and Deb Hult. Throughout the week, leadership trainees learned practical strategies for working with coaches, students and parents to promote the five “pillars” of MIAA Educational Athletics - wellness, sportsmanship, leadership, coaches’ education and community service. Topics for the course included training coaches and school activity staff members, conducting pre-season meetings, enforcing rules and codes for effective prevention, workshops for student activity participants and adult leaders, responding to student problems, dating abuse and safe dating, heroin and prescription painkillers and social emotional learning. Expenses for this week-long workshop were paid for by the MIAA, including training, educational materials, hotel accommodations and meals. Workshop participants attended sessions at the MIAA Office in Franklin, MA and the Holiday Inn Express in Milford, MA. The 2018 graduates join an alumni base of over 700 participants who have participated in this program.

Ms. Northrup completed the week-long intensive course at the 31st MIAA Leadership Training Institute.

ADVANCED PLACEMENT PRESENTATIONS

Cont. from Page 5 of the presentations being filmed for College Board, we cannot allow classes or students to attend.

Lastly, thank you to the MHS community, students and teachers who have contributed their time, their classes, and their expertise to help assist the students in their project. Many of the students focused on local research for the benefit of the community. The students and I are grateful for your commitment, support, and encouragement. If you cannot attend but are interested in the results/summary of the students work, I will share out shortly copies of their abstracts and encourage you to speak to the students, who love to discuss their work.

Mr. Hurley and group of MHS students attend Holocaust Remembrance

Mr. Hurley writes:

I wanted to share details about a couple of events that are tied in with our work with Facing History and Ourselves and Holocaust Remembrance based on the work that began with our visit to the Holocaust Memorial last September.

On April 11, I had the honor and privilege to attend Yom Hashoah Service (Holocaust Remembrance) with several Malden High Students. The students spoke at the end of the service to the Jewish Community of Temple Shalom in Medford and spoke about why it is important for them to continue to remember the victims of the Holocaust. The students who attended the service were:

Birukti Tsige Hajar El Khalfaoui

Taylor Winters Leila Greige

Netta Remedi-Brown Jessica Horacius

Hasifah Kyaabe Jade Farrell

Fatima Lhaloui

It was a moving and powerful service in remembrance of the victims of the Shoah and to honor survivors. The students read their own prepared remarks with Netta reading a stirring statement written by her mother, Fern Remedi-Brown, who is the daughter of survivor Dr. Alan Brown. My apologies for not having any pictures to share, but the nature of the event - being a religious service - made for the taking of pictures inappropriate. However the students were truly amazing and showed this community that they are committed to the concept of Never Again.

Last week Malden High School hosted Mr. George Elbaum in the Jenkins Auditorium from 12:50-2:15. Mr. Elbaum's story of survival as a Jewish boy living in Nazi occupied Poland is one that resonated with our students. I always find that meeting with Holocaust survivors and hearing their story helps me re-focus my life on what is most important and not allow the little things in my world which so often overwhelm me to consume me. Thank you as always, for your support of students and staff in all of this.

Barros will play soccer at Framingham State Univ.

Malden High School girls soccer standout Izabelly Barros officially announced her intention to play soccer at Framingham State Univ. in a ceremony attended by her mother and other family members, Coach Caceda, Captains Council Advisor Ms. Scibelli and Malden HS faculty member Ms. Conefrey

ONGOING at the MALDEN HIGH SCHOOL LIBRARY

PEER TUTORING: Every Tuesday and Thursday from 2:30-4:30 p.m with Ms. Cepetelli of the Malden Teen Enrichment Center (MTEC) supervising

April is National Poetry Month

The Rose That Grew From Concrete

by Tupac Shakur

Did you hear about the rose that grew from a crack in the concrete?

Proving nature's law is wrong it learned to walk with out having feet.

Funny it seems, but by keeping its dreams,

it learned to breathe fresh air.

Long live the rose that grew from concrete when no one else ever cared.

ITALY TRIP IS A BIG SUCCESS! Here's a look at some of the 43 MHS students who enjoyed a great trip to Italy over April break. More Photos coming in next NEDLAM NEWS
