

Tornado Times
Monday, October 5, 2015
Volume 13, Issue #6

The Tornado Times is put out at the beginning of each school week.

The contents of the Tornado Times are intended to inform Malden High School students and staff as well as the greater Malden High School community. If you would like to add something please submit the contents to Principal Dana F. Brown, dbrown@maldenps.org. Stories, pictures, reminders, club, activity, and class notes are all welcome.

Malden High School Vision Statement

The Malden High School community believes in the potential of all students to learn, to grow, and to become active, conscientious participants in the 21st century global society. We believe that students learn most effectively in a safe, respectful environment that encourages diverse viewpoints, promotes critical thinking and perseverance, and establishes rigorous standards for all. We honor the diverse nature of our community, promote social awareness and community involvement, and strive to meet the needs of all students through innovative methods and continual professional development. We are committed to ensuring that Malden High School graduates are thoughtful, independent, purpose-driven, lifelong learners. We seek to equip all students with the skills and habits necessary to successfully navigate and contribute to our ever-changing world.

Good morning,

Flexibility! Thank you all for welcoming the folks from the Special Education and Business Offices.

We start this morning with approximately 35 of our 15 year old students taking the Program for International Student Assessment. Last year we were asked to participate with some of our seniors in NAEP or the National Assessment for Educational Progress. As long as we are considered the most diverse high school in the State we will be “randomly” selected for these national and international comparison assessments.

The students taking PISA should report to the library right after homeroom this am. If you see any of these students please remind them. Thank you.

Yesterday proved to be a beautiful day for a walk and Malden High School students came out in full force to support the Bread of Life, the local non-profit providing a food pantry and dinner program for many of our residents including some of our students and their families. Through our Captains Council our student-athletes supported the cause with pride and enthusiasm, both in their participation in the walk and by raising nearly $3,000. Well over 100 student athletes were in attendance. A big thanks to Barbara Scibelli and all of our student-athletes for leading the way!

Tomorrow is our last day of the Chromebook rollout. The day will end for seniors, juniors, and sophomores at 12:45 pm. The freshmen will stay and collect their Chromebooks. We believe this is the only year that the Chromebooks will be distributed in this manner. It's been quite a process. Big props go out to Natalia Brennan, Sean Walsh and others for leading the school in this 1-1 initiative. This would not have happened without teacher leadership. Thank you!

Don't forget to sign up for edcamp Malden. It will be held on Saturday, October 17th from 8 am to 12:30 pm, right here at MHS.

What is edcamp? It's an "unconference" where the participants decide the sessions and lead the discussions. Low stress and high engagement according to organizer Abbey Dick!

Sign up at www.eventbrite.com. Search for Edcamp Malden.
