Malden High School Vision Statement

The Malden High School community believes in the potential of all students to learn, to grow, and to become active, conscientious participants in the 21st century global society. We believe that students learn most effectively in a safe, respectful environment that encourages diverse viewpoints, promotes critical thinking and perseverance, and establishes rigorous standards for all. We honor the diverse nature of our community, promote social awareness and community involvement, and strive to meet the needs of all students through innovative methods and continual professional development. We are committed to ensuring that Malden High School graduates are thoughtful, independent, purpose-driven, lifelong learners. We seek to equip all students with the skills and habits necessary to successfully navigate and contribute to our ever-changing world.

Good morning,

Welcome back. Best wishes for a great week!

Thank you to all those folks who made Spirit Week a fun week. Thank you to those who donated canned/dried goods to Bread of Life and volunteered on Wednesday and/or Thursday. It was great to see so many volunteers here. Final numbers suggest almost 900 meals served at MHS and/or delivered to hotels/motels and elderly housing units.

The Thanksgiving Day football game was historic on many levels. The victory gave Malden the undisputed championship of the Greater Boston League. Malden has not beaten

Medford and Everett in the same year in almost 25 years. The game also marked the final game for Head Coach Joe Pappagallo. What a way to go out! Thank you Coach for your hard work and dedication throughout the years.

Congratulations to senior football captain Robert Green. Robert Green was the winner of the George E. Murphy President's Memorial Award given out by the ANEFO (Association of New England Football Officials). The award is given to a senior whose conduct on the field is in keeping with the traditions of American sportsmanship and who has demonstrated integrity judgement and courage.

Thank you to all of the Malden High School folks who participated in the City of Malden's Parade of Holiday Traditions. Special thanks to our band members and Ms. O'Brien-Mazza; they play at everything! Our Captains Council was well represented and we also had many students marching with various dance troupes, drum ensembles, karate groups, and service organizations. A special thanks to our Disney characters and their entourage as well; Terrica Dang, Queenie Dang, Alyssa Ar dai, Aundraya Martin, Jenny Huynh, Zachary Dunphy, Rory Milan, and William Yang!

Translation:

Good morning I want to give thanks first and foremost to God for his many blessings and the strength He gives me each day in the midst of my grief . I also have to give thanks to everyone who's been by my side or has called or written me , God bless you always for being with me and my family and for loving us as you have. We love you all and wish you many blessings from the bottom of our hearts.

Hi, all. Before each long vacation, I put free books outside my door for students to take home so they can keep up their literacy during the break. It's open to all, and some kids really look forward to it. This year, the free books will be available on Dec. 22 and Dec. 23.

If you have any books to donate please feel free to give them to me. I can also come and get them from you.

Any books the students don't take are saved for another giveaway or given to the Malden Public Library for their used book sales.

Thank you!--Abbey Dick
