School Notes

Congratulations to the Class of 2012 for an outstanding end to their careers at Malden High School. The students displayed class and decorum over the last few weeks, truly going out in style. Save for a few immature parents, yesterday's ceremony was very nice. The weather, the crowd, the support of the faculty and staff at MHS; all added up to a beautiful day. Judi Sullivan is the "queen" of graduation and all things run through her. This year, at a different venue Chris Mastrangelo ensured a successful day of logistics. Thank you Judi and Chris! A special thanks to Advisors Mary Ann Seager and Paul Marques for helping us get to the finish line as well.

How about that softball team? Tonight at 6 pm at Martin Field in Lowell our girls play for the Division I North title. We've never been this far. The team is led by recent graduates Kiara Amos, Emily Hoffman, and Rebecca Krigman.

Lockers must be cleaned out by end of day today.

Malden High School Mission

In partnership with our extended community, MHS promotes academic excellence, personal growth, and civic responsibility for all students.

Living up to our mission....

- The crew team setting up all of the chairs for graduation and then meeting us at the field yesterday at 4 to take them all down. They also picked up all of the trash. What a great crew team!
- The crew team was at the school on Saturday as well and raised over $500 at their car wash. Thank you to all who brought their car by.
- The Classes of 2013, 2014, and 2015 all with a presence at yesterday's graduation, supporting any way they could and fundraising for their classes.
- Members of the Blue and Gold distributing their graduation edition of the paper at the graduation. What a job they did on the final issue!
- The band and chorus; don't ever take them for granted!
- The House Principals cooking for, and cleaning up after a very successful senior cookout.

School and District Goal: Improved Student Achievement

Students will increase their ability to interact thoughtfully with text, visuals, data, number and word problems, visuals, and phenomena, on their own and with one another, to build new knowledge, skills and understanding.

Can our students tell us what this means in our classrooms?
