SIP Review

- During the 2021-2022 school year, we will introduce practice and evaluate the effectiveness of targeted intervention strategies in math. We work to incorporate UDL practices in order to support the diverse needs, interests, and learning styles present in our classroom. We take a personalized approach to learning that honors individual student needs.
  - IXL as math intervention is not working for everyone. Math assistants will help in this area along with the new math curriculum in K-5
- During the 2021-2022 school year, we will introduce practice and evaluate the effectiveness of targeted intervention strategies in ELA. We work to incorporate UDL practices in order to support the diverse needs, interests, and learning styles present in our classroom. We take a personalized approach to learning that honors individual student needs.
  - WIN block alternates between ELA and Math K-8
  - Targeted small group instruction
- Enrich and enhance Beebe's SEL practices and PBIS model through explicit instruction, promoting social and emotional learning in the classroom and a climate of inclusion in a culturally responsive and anti-racist school. We take a personalized approach to learning that honors individual student needs.
